HOPEWELL RESIDENTIAL CROWNED MULTI-FAMILY BUILDER OF THE YEAR

CLAIRE YOUNG
A distinctive condo development in a choice location in an award-winning community. These factors, supported by excellent marketing, contributed to Hopewell Residential's new title as Grand SAM Multi-family Builder of the Year. Hopewell won the award at BILD Calgary Region's annual gala held April 8 at the Telus Convention Centre. "It's a very competitive segment of the marketplace, and there are a lot of competitors," says Jeff Rust, vice-president of multi-family for Hopewell Residential. "It's an honour and a privilege to walk away at the end of the evening with a Grand SAM." Hopewell Residential is the residential community development, multi-family and single-family construction arm of the Hopewell Group of Companies. It is based in Calgary and has expanded to Edmonton, Airdrie and Cochrane. Hopewell previously won Grand SAM Multi-family Builder of the Year in 2010, on the strength of its Copperfield community in the city's southeast and its Chalet townhome project. Its Mahogany community, next to Copperfield, has been recognized at the local, provincial and national levels as community of the year.
