every lifestyle and budget, says Nicole McLaws, marketing manager, housing at Hopewell.

"We are about more than just unparalleled style, functional floor plans and innovative design — we also offer affordable prices in the city's best communities," says McLaws. "In fact, our homes in Mahogany range from the low $200,000s to the $500,000s and up and our selection includes everything from condos, to paired homes, to lando homes, rear-attached garage homes and front-attached garage homes."

"There's a variety of floor plans available and the two bedroom models in Building One, which is now under construction, have been a real-hix, with their nine-foot ceilings, private balconies or patios, and well-planned layouts," says McLaws. "Plus, they're in an amazing location just moments from the lake and future retail amenities."

The new paired Syntax homes have proven popular with budget conscious but space-loving buvers.

space-loving buyers.
"This is a duplex-style home that's open-concept, bright and welcoming, with an L-shaped kitchen and plenty of room for entertaining," says

McLaws. "Upstairs, home buyers can choose from dual master bedrooms with ensuites, or three bedrooms. And even better, all of our paired homes suit any timeline, with Qwik possession homes and pre-sale homes available."

Looking for a single-family, laned home priced less than $400,000? It's the Clio, says McLaws

"Starting in the $360,000s, our laned Clio home offers 1,177 square feet of functional design. This open floor plan has a comfortable living room at the front, with a central dining area and spacious rear kitchen," she says. "Our showhome for this model is completely unique, with interior design that's memorable and fun.
